

Provider Enrollment & Credentialing

Setting you up to get the reimbursements you've earned

Provider Enrollment and Credentialing are crucial first steps in the revenue cycle. Successful enrollment grants you the in-network status your patients are looking for and the stability that comes with predictable reimbursements. Yet the process can be arduous and put a strain on your resources. That's why working with an experienced partner who is adept at navigating the process can provide a real advantage. Advantum's Provider Enrollment Service team specializes in getting payor enrollment and credentialing done right the first time. We are your advocate and liaison with payers.

On-going Monitoring

Advantum Health knows that while setting up and getting credentials approved is critical - it's even more important to monitor the outcome. Our experts work closely with your back-office staff to monitor for claim status and denials. We review denial status and reason codes and look at your original contracts to make sure you are getting paid properly.

At Advantum Health, we believe that your revenue cycle is not a static process but rather an evolving, dynamic one that needs constant attention for the success of your business, your practice – and ultimately, the care of your patients.
